THE COMMUNAL LAND TENURE SYSTEM: AN ANALYSIS OF SOME TRENDS IN THE DITSOBOTLA AREA OF THE NORTH WEST PROVINCE

BY

MMAPHAKA EPHEAIM TAU

submitted in part fulfilment of the requirements for the degree of

MASTER OF ARTS

in the subject

DEVELOPMENT STUDIES

at the

UNIVERSITY OF SOUTH AFRICA

SUPERVISOR : MR. S.P TREURNICHT

JULY 2003
ACKNOWLEDGEMENT OF SPONSORSHIP

The financial assistance of the Centre for Science Development (lately called the National Research Foundation) as well as the State towards my studies are hereby acknowledged. Opinions expressed as well as conclusions arrived at are those of the author and therefore not to be attributed to the National Research Foundation nor the State.
DEDICATION

I dedicate this dissertation to my late father and mother, Maladimo and Phogole Tau and my elder sister, Dinah Maakome Motubatse who, despite financial difficulties at home, tried their best to ensure that I furthered my studies, and who also gave me encouragement throughout my studies up to the point where I am now.

Mogale-a-Matshele le Pēbetse hle ke a le bēgō ka re Modimo ole boloke!!
ACKNOWLEDGEMENTS

I take this opportunity to express my sincere thanks to the following people and organisations for their valuable contributions towards making this study a success:

- My supervisor, Mr. S.P Treurnicht, for leading me through this lifelong achievement. Thank you for your encouragement and constructive guidance.
- Mr. Gavin Capps from the London School of Economics and Political Science and Mr. Lucas Serage from the Small Grain Institute, ARC: Bethlehem. Thank you for mentoring me and for your patience.
- Mr. Pine, chairman of the Kopano Community Authority. Your generosity displayed by accepting me in your area, as well as the disclosure of all the information relating to my research topic and even beyond, has contributed greatly to the success of this study. I thank you wholeheartedly.
- The Council and Community under the jurisdiction of the Kopano Community Authority for your unreserved support and co-operation throughout this study.
- Messrs. Mothibedi and Sehume, the headmen of Mooifontein and Springbokpan villages respectively, for assisting me in the co-ordination of meetings through which I gathered information that led to the realisation of the objectives of this study.
- My former work supervisor, Mrs. Paula Mongae and current supervisor, Mr. Tshepo Malatji, for being so supportive and also for allowing me to use work machinery to compile my thesis for this study.
- My other sisters as well as my wife, Meriam Tau, for their sustained encouragement throughout this study. Thank you for your prayers and your moral support.
- Officials from the Northwest Department of Agriculture, Messrs. Rasweswe, Mashego and Mokwadi, for being available at all times in order to furnish information relating to my study.
I praise God,
Because He did not reject my prayer
or keep back His constant love from me

Psalm 66:20
DECLARATION OF ORIGINALITY

I, Mmaphaka Ephraim Tau, hereby present for consideration by the Department of Public Administration and Development Studies: Faculty of Arts at the University of South Africa, my dissertation in partial fulfilment of the requirements for the degree of Master of Arts in Development Studies.

I sincerely declare that this dissertation is a product of my own efforts. No other person has published a similar study from which I might have copied, and at no stage shall this work be published without the consent of myself, as well as that of the Department of Public Administration and Development Studies, UNISA.

Views, opinions and proposals expressed herein should be attributed to me and not to the Department of Public Administration and Development Studies nor any of the sponsors who were acknowledged.
CONTENTS

Chapter 1

INTRODUCTION

1.1. Background and justification ........................................... 1
1.2. Background information about land tenure systems ................. 3
  1.2.1. Land ownership within the mainstream development debate... 4
  1.2.2. The concept of land tenure ....................................... 6
  1.2.3. Land tenure “the bundle of rights” ............................. 7
    1.2.3.1. Use rights ................................................. 9
    1.2.3.2. Alienation rights ......................................... 10
  1.2.4. Summary of some trends regarding land tenure in the Sub-Saharan Region .................................................. 11
  1.2.5. Forms of land tenure prevalent in the Sub-Saharan region .... 13
    1.2.5.1. Communal / Customary land tenure ....................... 13
    1.2.5.2. Leasehold tenure ......................................... 16
    1.2.5.3. Freehold tenure .......................................... 16
  1.3. Motivation for the study ............................................ 17
  1.4. Choice of the study area ............................................ 18
  1.5. Statement of the problem ......................................... 19
  1.6. Research methodology ............................................ 19
    1.6.1. Literature review ............................................ 20
    1.6.2. Participatory Learning and Action ......................... 21
      1.6.2.1. How Participatory Learning and Action techniques were implemented ............................................. 24
        1.6.2.1.1. The preparatory phase .............................. 24
        1.6.2.1.2. The appraisal phase .............................. 27
      1.6.2.2. Problems experienced with the implementation of PLA methods and techniques ......................... 31
  1.7. Chapter outline .................................................. 32
Chapter 2

THE ECONOMIC AND SOCIAL IMPLICATIONS OF THE COMMUNAL LAND TENURE SYSTEM: SOME REMARKS ON THE AFRICAN EXPERIENCE

2.1.1. Introduction ................................................................. 33
2.1.2. Communal land tenure systems and the mainstream development debate in the African context ........................................... 33
2.1.3. Land in the traditional African sense ................................... 37

2.2. EXPERIENCES FROM SOME OF THE AFRICAN COUNTRIES

2.2.1. Kenya ................................................................. 47
2.2.2. Uganda ............................................................... 49
2.2.3. Zimbabwe ............................................................ 50
2.2.4. Nigeria ................................................................. 53
2.2.5. Lesotho ................................................................. 57
2.2.6. Malawi ................................................................. 59

2.3. HISTORICAL BACKGROUND ON COMMUNAL LAND TENURE SYSTEM IN SOUTH AFRICA AND THE STUDY AREA .......... 60

2.3.1. Introduction ................................................................. 60
2.3.2. South African communal areas ........................................... 61
2.4. Overview of the Ditsobotla’s South African Development Trust (S.A.D.T) farm ................................................................. 66
2.4.1. Brief overview of the area ................................................. 66
2.4.1.1. Soil structure ............................................................. 66
2.4.1.2. Veld types ............................................................... 67
2.4.1.3. Land use ................................................................. 67
2.4.1.4. Climatic conditions ....................................................... 67
2.4.1.5. Agricultural activities .................................................... 68
2.5. The historical and current land tenure arrangements and rural economic welfare:
   Ditsobotla area: see map, APPENDIX A ........................................ 68
2.6. Conclusion .................................................................................. 71

Chapter 3

RESEARCH FINDINGS

3.1. Introduction .................................................................................. 72
3.2. Central issues to the study .......................................................... 75
3.3. Major research findings ............................................................... 76
   3.3.1. The commonly adopted farming practice ............................... 76
   3.3.1.1. Springbokpan and Mooifontein ..................................... 77
   3.3.2. Agricultural investment potential in the area ....................... 79
   3.3.2.1. Springbokpan and Mooifontein ..................................... 79
   3.3.3. The availability of local / regional agricultural markets. How do they market their produce, and what is the average financial turnover from the produce per household ............................................. 80
   3.3.3.1. Springbokpan and Mooifontein ..................................... 81
   3.3.4. Level of extension support from the State through the Department of Agriculture ................................................................. 82
   3.3.4.1. Springbokpan and Mooifontein ..................................... 82
   3.3.5. The farming practice adopted by the community ................ 83
   3.3.5.1. Springbokpan and Mooifontein ..................................... 84
   3.3.6. Gender issues in land allocation and farming practices in the area .. 85
   3.3.6.1. Springbokpan and Mooifontein ..................................... 85
   3.3.7. The community and plot owners’ views about the current communal land tenure system: how they see it impacting on rural economic welfare ......................................................... 86
   3.3.7.1. Springbokpan and Mooifontein ..................................... 87
   3.3.8. Recommendations for the improvement and/or change of the current land holding and ownership pattern and how it should be effected .................................................. 90
Chapter 4

RECOMMENDATIONS

4.1. Introduction ................................................................. 91
4.2. The proposed intervention strategies .................................. 92
   4.2.1. Establishment of agricultural markets and provision of extension support ......................................................... 92
   4.2.2. Research, policy and developmental options ....................... 93

Chapter 5

CONCLUSION

5.1. Introduction ................................................................. 98
5.2. Conclusions around key research issues ................................. 99
   5.2.1. Investment potential, market, extension support and the land holding system ............................................................. 99
   5.2.2. Gender issues, the type and mode of farming ...................... 100

APPENDIX A

MAP OF THE DITSOBOTLA’S SOUTH AFRICAN DEVELOPMENT TRUST FARM ................................................................. 102

REFERENCES ................................................................. 103