
ACKNOWLEDGEMENTS

Thank you to the almighty God for giving me the strength to persevere during the past three years. To my wife Jeannette and my son Ethan I want to say thank you for the patience during the past three years and for your support during this challenging time.

A special word of thanks to my mother, Corrie Bostander, for her unconditional love and support as well as to my father who has passed away.

To Mr André Erwee, my study promoter, for his invaluable guidance and inputs into the research report. Mr Erwee is thanked for his openness and willingness to always engage with students allocated to him.

Thank you to Donald Norman for his wise words of encouragement. Thank you to Therese van Wyk who gave valuable input for the construction of my questionnaire. To Ms Arien Strasheim at the University of South Africa for her valuable advice specifically related to the quantitative aspects of the research report.

A word of thanks to Alèta Mostert who was always willing to edit my research report even sometimes on very short notice.

I also want to acknowledge the contributions of Yvette Singh and Sandra de Lange whose research reports served as a guide for the structuring and layout of my research report.
