

TABLE OF CONTENTS

SUMMARY	-i-
KEY WORDS	-iii-
ACKNOWLEDGEMENTS	-iv-
DEDICATION	-v-
DECLARATION	-vi-

CHAPTER ONE

INTRODUCTION	1
1.1 Aims and Motivation of the study	1
1.2 Reasons for the study	2
1.3 Scope of the study	3
1.4 Structuralism	4
1.4.1 Structuralism as a philosophy	9
1.4.2 Structuralism as a method	10
1.5 Defining the title of the research	11
1.6 Semiotic approaches	27
1.6.1 Functionalist- structural approach	27
1.6.2 Hypothetical-deductive structural approach	28
1.7 Research methodologies	28

CHAPTER TWO

2.1 SEMIOTICS AS OSTENSIVE SIGNS IN THE STUDY	30
INTRODUCTION	30
2.2 Definitions of concepts	31

2.2.1 Kingship	32
2.2.2 Coronation	37
2.2.3 Throne	40
2.2.4 Heir	45
2.3 How the ostensive signs are interpreted in the study	48
2.3.1 The fallacy of kingship in Scotland	49
2.3.2 The sovereignty of coronation	56
2.3.3 The power of the throne in those days	58
2.3.4 Entitlement of the heirdoom	63
2.4 Beliefs and superstitions as a philosophy and psychology among the Vatsonga chieftaincies.	63
2.5 Summary	84

CHAPTER THREE

3.1 SEMIOTICAL INSTRUMENTS IN THE TEXT	85
INTRODUCTION	85
3.2 Definitions of concepts	86
3.2.1 Symbols	86
3.2.2 Iconic signs	90
3.2.3 Conventional signs	94
3.2.4 The Zodiac picture	98
3.2.5 Motivational signs	101
3.3 How the semiotic instruments are manifested in the text	106
3.3.1 The weird sisters are the instruments of witchcraft	107
3.3.2 The dagger is an instrument of blood shedding	112
3.3.3 Apparitions are the conventional instruments of kingship	117
3.3.4 The Zodiac picture as a chain of order on earth	123

3.3.5	The Birnam forest is the motivational instrument of war.	126
3.4	Vatsonga's beliefs and superstitions in line with the semiotic instruments.	132
3.5	Summary	153

CHAPTER FOUR

4.1	FUNCTIONS OF THE SEMIOTICAL INSTRUMENTS IN THE TEXT AND IN GENERAL	154
------------	---	------------

	INTRODUCTION	154
4.2	Definitions of key words	155
4.2.1	Expressive	155
4.2.2	Conative	159
4.2.3	Poetic	163
4.2.4	Phatic	167
4.3	The functions of the semiotic instruments from the text	171
4.3.1	The weird sisters as an expressive factors of good and evil	171
4.3.2	The letter to Lady Macbeth as a conative function of evil	175
4.3.3	The killing of Duncan as a poetic function of evil	179
4.3.4	The language usage as a phatic function	186
4.4	The philosophy and psychology of evil as revealed by certain instruments of superstitions.	197
4.5	Summary	211

CHAPTER FIVE

5.1 SEMIOTICS AS A TYPOLOGICAL CODE FOR

COMMUNICATION 212

INTRODUCTION 212

5.2 Definitions of concepts 213

5.2.1 Qualisign 213

5.2.2 Sinsign 215

5.2.3 Soliloquy 217

5.2.4 Analogue 221

5.3 How these codes of typology are communicated in the text 224

5.3.1 Blood on the dagger and hands as qualisign of evil 224

5.3.2 Banquo's ghost as a sinsign of witchcraft 232

5.3.3 The effects of evil on main characters of the text 236

5.3.4 War and the code of analogue 242

5.4 The relevancy of witchcraft and superstitions as part of evil. 245

5.5 Summary 257

CHAPTER SIX

6.1 THE SIGNIFICANCE OF SEMIOTICS 259

INTRODUCTION 259

6.2 Definitions of concepts 260

6.2.1 Context 260

6.2.2 Message 264

6.2.3 Emotive 269

6.2.4 Cognitive 274

6.3 The implications of semiotics to the public audience 279

6.3.1 Contextualization of information 279

6.3.2	Attributions of a message proper to the text	284
6.3.3	The emotive elements of the text	288
6.3.4	The cognitive elements as factual data	294
6.4	The philosophy and psychology that signify the belief and superstitions of Vatsonga's life.	297
6.5	Summary	309

CHAPTER SEVEN

7.	CONCLUSION AND RECAPITULATION	310
7.1	Summary	310
7.2	Final word	314
7.3	Bibliography	315

