Dear Ansie van der Westhuizen,

This serves to grant the requested permission to publish Prof. NL Mahao's six artciles mentioned in your e-mail of 24 February, 2009 on the UnisaIR. This permission is granted subject to the conditions set out in your request and, the additional condition that those articles may not be republished anywhere else without the prior express permission of the Lesotho Law Journal Editorial Board.

I apologise for the delay in responding to your request; I had to consult my principals.

Prof NL Mahao is the Executive Dean of the College of Law here at the University of South Africa and would like to deposit the full text of various articles from Lesotho Law Journal in Unisa's Institutional Repository (UnisaIR). Prof Mahao has us to do this on his behalf and to contact you to seek permission to do this.

The articles are as follows:

1.   The Ombudsman and the enhancement of good governance in Lesotho. Vol. 9, no. 2, 1996.

2.   Chieftaincy and the Search for relevant constitutional and institutional models in Lesotho. Vol. 9, no. 1, 1993.

3.   The Law and the Political Debate in Lesotho. Vol. 8, no. 2, 1993.

4.   The Constitution, the Elite and the Crisis Monarchy in Lesotho. Vol. 10, no. 1, 1997.

5.   The Electoral System and the Legitimacy of Representation in a Democracy. Vol. 10, no. 2, 1997.

6.   Lesotho's Administration of Justice Draft Bill. Vol. 11, no. 2, 1998.

The institutional repository is a non-profit service for our academic authors, providing access to the full-text of their publications. Full bibliographic details are given for each article, including the journal of original publication, etc.

If possible, it is preferred to archive the finalised pdf version as it appears in print. The pdf version has an advantage over mounting the author's own version, in that it maintains consistency in appearance of the article wherever it is read. This also maintains a closer association of the article with the Journal, through the header-title and journal house-style.

I would be grateful if you could contact me to give your permission for including this article and to pass on any conditions that are associated. If it would be possible to use the published pdf version of the article for this purpose, then please confirm this.

Thank you for your attention with this and I look forward to hearing from you.

Best regards
