Elisaveta Kandyba was born in Czarist Russia in 1912. She left Russia with her mother after the Revolution in 1920. They lived for five years in Bulgaria and then for three years in France. Early in 1928 at the age of fifteen, an acquaintance of her mother invited her to study in England. This Williams family later adopted her. In England she attended the St Swithun's Public School in Winchester. Elisaveta went to Oxford (Somerville College) in 1931 to study modern languages. She obtained an Honours degree in 1934 and a MA degree a few years later. Married in 1935 to Mr Foxcroft, a South African, Elisaveta settled in the country in 1947. In 1960 she joined the staff of the University of South Africa and helped to launch the Russian Department. She travelled extensively and delivered many academic papers in South Africa and abroad. In 1977 she retired.

Amongst her many achievements was the book Russia and the Anglo-Boer War 1899-1904, published by CUM Books in Roodepoort, 1981. This publication earned her the “Pretorian of the Year” award. Her many interests included the Russian Orthodox Church, Russian music, literature and history.

After suffering from Alzheimer’s disease for some time, she died on 2 February 1989.

The Elisaveta Kandyba-Foxcroft Papers were donated to the Unisa Library Archives between 1988 and 1992 by Mrs Foxcroft and Prof C de Jong. The Papers reflect her career, her interests and especially her passionate love of Russian literature, music, history and culture. About 10% of the archival materials are in Russian. The copies of the Russian archival Anglo-Boer War records in the files were translated by Mrs Foxcroft from the original Russian, French and Dutch into English. The Papers include her personal correspondence, materials on the Russian Orthodox Church, programmes of Russian evenings held at the University of South Africa, historical articles and reports about her visits abroad, plays written by her as well as English translations of Russian plays. The Elisaveta Kandyba-Foxcroft Papers are of great research value to scholars interested in the relationship between South Africa and Russia during the Anglo-Boer War period (1899-1902) and the Cold War years (1960-1986). They also present the researcher with a wonderful introduction to Russian spirituality, culture and literature.
