News has been received of the death in Scotland of Miss Janet P. McCall, formerly Warden of the Women's Hostel at Fort Hare and Librarian of the Howard Vim library. Miss McCall joined the staff of the South African Native College in 1935 and had only been a few months ago left South Africa for medical health reasons. All her friends, both students and staff, had hoped that after a brief recovery overseas she would return to the work she loved so much fully restored in health.

Miss McCall was one of those rare personalities who believe in active service.
Whether in the interests of the welfare of the women students, and in the service in which she served all staff and students in the library, Miss McCall was an unfailingly capable worker.
No one will ever be able to blame what she did.
She for her part has left us the intense love which she devoted to the cause of higher education. many men.

We thank you for your support and your generosity which made possible for the women students to be housed in one of the finest dormitories on campus. The devoted service which in the library was also made possible by the creation of the beautiful Anderson Hall in which the Howard Fine Library, The F.S. Hulman House are housed. The left front has a most inviting little place
