Presentation: H. R. Burrows

1. We have met here this afternoon to give the staff as a whole the opportunity of saying farewell to our principal and to make a presentation to him something which we hope he will take away with him as a memento of his stay in our midst.

2. Prof. Burrows as you all know joined us nearly two years ago at a critical time in the history of the College. We had been without a principal for a number of years. Prof. Kiffen & myself had tried to carry on, but it was obvious to all that there was need for a full-time principal. A number of people who had been promised or considered in this connection failed us for one reason or another. When Prof. Burrows

3. During the time he has been here he has taken himself wholeheartedly into the life of the College. He has enjoyed its history, he has worked on it, friends, he has added to our accommodation, and above all he has engaged in a spirited defence of the standards & values for which the College has stood during the years of its existence.

4. Now that he is leaving us for another sphere, we want him to accept our good wishes for the future and these gifts as a token of the esteem in which he has been held by those whom he has led with such distinction during 1958-1959.
