

ACKNOWLEDGEMENT

I would like to express my warm appreciation to the following people for their contribution to make this study possible:

- The heavenly Father, “that made heaven, and earth, and the sea, and the fountains of waters” (Revelation 14:7), the Creator who is my constant Friend and Saviour.
- Sincere gratitude and appreciation to Marlene, my wife, without whose support and motivation it would have been impossible to continue. May this work be an expression of our common desire to serve God through helping Mankind.
- Our sons, Gareth and Calvin, who never ceased in their encouragement.
- My Supervisor, Professor C P Loubser, who became a friend as well as an empathetic companion in a search for a better way to serve the environment and education.
- The KwaZulu-Natal Department of Education and Culture (KZNDEC) that granted me the permission and latitude to complete this study. My sincere wish is that the findings may advance education – for the children’s sake – in our great organisation.
- The person who encouraged me from the start to begin and to finish: my mentor and our friend, Dr Mike Lötter, Chief Director: Education Management in the KZNDEC. His companionship is a source of joy.
- The Heads of the Durban and Eshowe Environmental Education Centres, Mr Jeff Keegan and Mr Roger Gaisford, for their co-operation and help in completing the extensive research required.
- Friends in the “environmental education world,” all of whom gave excellent advice, counsel and friendship unstintingly: Dr Jim Taylor (WESSA and SADC-REEP), Professor Rob O'Donoghue (Rhodes University), Mr Dave Duncan (Delta EE Centre), Mrs Kim Ward (EcoSchools and University of Natal), Mr Philip van den Berg (former Co-ordinator: Environmental Education Unit, Natal Education Department), Mrs Meriel Mitchell (BirdLife South Africa), and Mrs Gail Stroebel (Subject Advisor: Amajuba District, KZNDEC).

- Mr Stuart Chambers, of the Legal Section of the KZNDEC, a friend who helped me explore the legal jungle, who is himself deeply committed to environmental issues.
- Mr Craig Lancaster, Director: Support Services, KZNDEC Ukhahlamba Region, whose loyalty to truth and clear thinking is admirable.
