Dear Miss Brackett,

I am sending you herewith my article on Barolong Marriage Customs. I am afraid it is rather later than I thought I should manage, and besides it cannot be said to be a complete paper on the subject.

I look upon it as the first instalment on the subject and I shall continue to work on the material I have and send you my next instalment later. I hope you will find it in order.

Regarding your question about whether the sum of £10 would cover my travelling expenses in the field, I think that amount would be adequate. I hope to hear from you again in the near future.

We do not envy you the anxious times through which you are passing in Europe, and we all hope and pray that Mr Chamberlain's efforts to preserve peace in the world will be rewarded with success.

With best wishes,

Yours sincerely,
